

FATE OF TERRAZAS CAUSE OF ANXIETY

Entire Change of Policy Toward Carranza May Follow Further Acts of Violence.

Officials of the State Department today awaited with anxiety advice from Mexico as to the fate of Luis Terrazas, whose execution by General Villa was threatened, and the result of the inquiry by Consul Fletcher at Chihuahua into the complaint of W. D. Smyman, a British subject, of mistreatment by the constitutional forces. The future Mexican policy of the Government is held to hinge on the outcome of these two cases. In the case of Terrazas, Consul Fletcher was instructed by Secretary of State Bryan to convey to General Villa the earnest protest of the United States against the execution of Terrazas, son of a wealthy Mexican house, who has been held for ransom by Villa, and who had been threatened with death if the ransom was not paid today.

The protest of the Englishman, Smyman, was placed before the State Department yesterday by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador. Smyman had appealed to his government for protection, declaring that his ancestral property had been confiscated by Villa. He feared that he would meet the same fate as his countryman, Benton, and asked that the State Department be instructed to investigate the case and afford Smyman protection.

Eager for Carranza's Report. The execution of Terrazas, over the protest of this Government, and the harming of Smyman, after his government had asked protection for him, would, it is admitted in official circles, cause a change in the attitude of this Government toward Carranza and his constitutional forces, and might bring about a complete change in this Government's Mexican policy. George C. Carothers, special agent of the State Department, has returned to Juarez from Nogales, where he went to try to persuade General Carranza to change his attitude of defiance toward the United States. It is declared here that his mission was a failure, and that Carranza maintained the position that he would not treat with the United States in the Benton matter.

The next step that this Government will take in dealing with Carranza and his followers has not yet been decided. Administration officials, however, were interested in advice from Naco, Ariz., a port of entry on the border, showing that 5,000,000 cartridges, 2,500 rifles, and clothing and other equipment for soldiers had passed through that port. This was taken to indicate that the constitutionalists have been prompt to take advantage of President Wilson's act of a month ago in lifting the embargo on the exportation of arms to Mexico.

Silence as to Rifles. Official advice received by the State Department today were of a routine nature. No report was received in substantiation of the unofficial report that Innocente Benavides, a Texas stockman, arrested recently by federalists near Saltillo, had been put to death. Neither was there any official news confirming the report that Huerta had abandoned his plan to re-establish a federal bank through which the government would issue its own currency. No comment would be made at the Navy Department on the report from Vera Cruz of the arrival there of a shipment of 100 rifles and a large amount of ammunition by steamer from the United States. Of the rifles, the Vera Cruz dispatch said, 50 were dispatched to the Mexican capital for the purpose of permitting Americans there to arm themselves, and 50 were placed on board the steamer for disposal at the discretion of Admiral Fletcher.

Intimations of a change in the attitude of the United States toward the Huerta government were contained in the dispatch, which said that the arms were sent to the Mexican capital with the concurrence of Huerta, who has acquiesced in a plan of arming all Americans in Mexico City for self-protection in the event of an uprising at the capital.

Freckle-Face
Now Is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.
Do you know how easy it is to remove those ugly spots so that no one will call you freckle-face? Simply get an ounce of othine, double strength, from your druggist, and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of freckles and get a beautiful complexion. The sun and winds of February and March have a strong tendency to bring out freckles, and as a result more othine is sold in these months. Be sure to ask for the double strength othine, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.—Adv.

NEWPORT, R. I., March 8.—Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont plans to engage the Newport opera house every Sunday evening this summer, and hold meetings there in the interest of the women's suffrage movement. MEETING TO HONOR MEMORY OF FELS

English Legislator and New York Congressman to Speak at Library Tomorrow.

Memorial services for Joseph Fels will be held at the Public Library tomorrow night under the auspices of the Women's Single Tax Club of the District. The speakers will be Henry George, Jr., Congressman from New York, and Josiah Wedgwood, member of the British parliament. Mr. Wedgwood has special leave of absence from parliament. Since he entered parliament he has been associated with the body of radicals known as the "land values" group. Mr. George is well known as one of the foremost advocates of the single tax doctrine. Joseph Fels, whose activities in behalf of the single tax and whose financial contributions to the support of the single tax cause are well known, was born at Halifax Court House, Va., in 1851. His business as a soap manufacturer was prosperous, and he amassed a large fortune, much of which he spent in propaganda work for the single tax. Mr. Fels' activities in behalf of the single tax were not confined to the United States, but were employed in Canada, Great Britain, Denmark, Norway, Spain, Germany, and Australia. It is said that his contributions for the single tax cause during the last five years amounted to $1,000,000. His plan was to match dollar for dollar contributed by others. The Fels family owned and operated a large soap factory in New York City, which held its fourth annual convention in this city recently.

Great Increase Shown In Use of Electricity

The wonderful increase in the use of electricity for power and illumination is illustrated by a Census Bureau report, which shows that the amount of electricity used in the United States has quadrupled in the last decade. The total income of commercial and municipal plants increased from $85,700,000, in 1902, to $302,115,500 in 1912, or 252 per cent. Total expenses, including wages, increased from $28,093,272 to $234,418,424, or 244 per cent. Increase of 84 per cent in horsepower furnished by water wheels and of 320 per cent in the number of incandescent and other varieties of lamps are reported.

Noted Co-respondents Are Exonerated by Trial

The divorce action of Joseph Stonebraker against Constance Stillwell Stonebraker, formerly a Baltimore society girl, will continue, despite the fact that three main figures in the case have been eliminated. Attorneys and parties to the action have agreed to withdraw all charges against B. Clifford Kline, brother of George W. Kline, and Bill Edwage, former street cleaning commissioner, and Alexander R. Peacock the Pittsburgh millionaire steel man. The complaint names "divers other men" as having visited Mrs. Stonebraker. Enos S. Booth, as referee, is now hearing testimony.

14 Billion Phone Calls.

Exclusive of "busy" calls and requests for the time, the American people make 14,000,000,000 telephone calls a year, according to a report issued by the Census Bureau. The Bell Telephone Company alone connected 9,000,000 calls in 1912—using 5,300,000 inter-

Say Morgenthau Will Be Reserve Board Member

Although the White House refuses to discuss the personnel of the Federal Reserve Board, word to be named, a persistent report is in circulation that Henry Morgenthau, Ambassador to Turkey, will be appointed either a member of that board, or the chairman of the board of control of the reserve bank at New York.

The same report declares that Mr. Morgenthau will be succeeded at the Turkish post by Ira Nelson Morris, of Chicago, who is at present in Italy as special agent for the United States for the Panama exposition at San Francisco. President Wilson has indicated that he will appoint the members of the Federal Reserve Board before April 1.
